4. MEASUREMENT AND VERIFICATION (M&V) OF PROJECT ELECTRICITY SAVINGS OR ELECTRICITY GENERATION

Baseline data M&V: Briefly describe the agreed method to determine baseline data and describe and explain the reason for any significant divergence from the agreed method. "Agreed method" refers to the agreement reached during Pre-application Project Review by DNR's Energy Center. For an energy efficiency project, baseline data typically includes records documenting past energy consumption, rated energy efficiency or billing data that may facilitate review of the baseline. No historic data is needed for projects to build and operate new renewable or biomass generation projects. Please attach the resulting data.

Project data M&V: Briefly describe the agreement on energy data and other post-implementation data to be collected and the agreed method to measure and verify this data. Describe and explain the reason for any significant divergence from the agreed method. Please attach the resulting data.

5. CALCULATION OF ALLOWANCES THE PROJECT IS QUALIFIED TO RECEIVE

In the space provided and/or on attached worksheets, please document your calculation of the number of NO_x allowances the project is qualified to receive. Please show your data and calculations based on the following equations (refer to Appendix E {available online at www.dnr.mo.gov/energy/financial/cairsetaside.htm}). All terms in these equations are defined in Appendix E.

Project Type	Equation
Energy efficiency (EE)	$(S_{kwh} * 0.0015) / 2000$
Combined heat & power (CHP)	$NO_{xconventional} - NO_{xCHP}$
Zero-emissions renewable generation	$(G_{kwh} * 0.0015) * Share_{MO} / 2000$
Biomass generation	$(G_{kwh} * (0.0015 - ER_{project}) * Share_{MO}) / 2000$
Other (please describe)
